

OnePass

Your single, secure, login tool for Thomson Reuters online services

MORE SECURE

- Usernames and Passwords now have more secure character requirements
- Because you create your own Username and Password, they're easier to remember and only you know what they are

MORE CONTROL

- Rather than having a Password assigned to you by Thomson Reuters, you choose your own Username and Password
- If you forget your Password, you can reset it yourself

ONE PROFILE FOR MULTIPLE APPLICATIONS

- You can use the same OnePass Username & Password with Westlaw AU, Westlaw NZ, Westlaw International, and ProView!

FAQ

Where can I manage my OnePass profile?

Visit <http://onepass.thomsonreuters.com> to create a new OnePass profile or to update an existing OnePass profile

How do I change my Username, Password, Security Question or Email Address?

You can change your details at any time. Either visit <http://onepass.thomsonreuters.com> or click on the "Update/Forgot" links on the sign-in screens of the sites you're visiting. Log into OnePass with your existing details to make changes

OnePass is telling me I'm locked out – what should I do?

If you are unable to reset your details by clicking on the 'Forgot...' links, please contact Customer Care:

Australia: Tel: 1800 020 548
New Zealand: Tel: 0800 10 60 60

Email: LTA.Helpdesk@thomsonreuters.com
Email: service@thomsonreuters.co.nz

How often can I change my password?

You have control over how often you want to change it, so it is up to you!

Will Thomson Reuters Customer Care have access to OnePass Usernames and Passwords?

Customer Care will have access to OnePass usernames, and will have the ability to reset passwords. After a password is reset, a temporary password will be emailed to the user. Once logged in using the temporary password, the user will be prompted to create a new password. For security purposes, Customer Care does not have access to OnePass passwords.
